

ASSIGNMENT 2

─(03.10.2020)

Practice Task 1 : Single Sentence Definition

1. HTML : This is an application which is a standard mark-up language for documents into web pages. (class) An acronym for Hypertext Mark-up Language which is used to include colour, language, and graphics on a webpage. (characteristics)
2. Touch User Interface (TUI) : The TUI is a special kind of Graphical User Interface (GUI) using a touchpad or touch-screen display as a combined Input Output device. (class) In TUI, the display screen is pressure sensitive where the user interacts with machine by tapping screen surface using fingers or stylus. The system compares the action and executed appropriate commands. (characteristics)

Practice Task 2 : Extended Definition

1. Google Glass : The Google Glass is an amazing wearable small gadget connected with the internet and interacts with the computer without commands or graphical objects. (class)

The goal of the Glass is to take basic experience of the worlds and deliver it to the user for a better, more liveable and more ways without having to compromise on user's side. (effect)

It contains a built-in camera, touchpad, and a voice recognition software. It can take photographs and record videos as well as displaying in-front of user's eyes. It has got a built in Wi-Fi for surfing internet and send emails. The Google Glasses also assists in various circumstances such as suggesting alternative routes in traffic congestions. The communication with different languages is also possible using Google translate feature supported in Google Glass. (Uses and applications)